

Mark just called to say that everyone is OK.

The biggest aftershock since last Tuesday's earthquake occurred shortly after they got up this morning. There was brief panic and more damage to the Matthew 25 building. Mark said that his phone rang right after the aftershock; it was Odeline, from Hinche. She said they felt it in Hinche, sending everyone out of their houses.

Mark said they are going to break into teams today and are going into the community to look for people needing wound care treatment.

Again, everyone is OK.
